

Executive Healthcare Services, P.C.

Executive Healthcare Services, P.C. (EHS) is a unique primary healthcare provider, offering direct, immediate physician access and convenient, high-quality medical services to a limited number of clients.

Direct Access

EHS provides direct, immediate access to its physicians, avoiding the usual delays intrinsic to conventional healthcare delivery. Appointments and services are made available to clients as their schedules dictate. In addition to a dedicated phone line, clients receive same-day E-mail response, 24-hour paging, and direct cellular phone access to their physician. A quiet, comfortable medical suite is devoted exclusively to EHS; however, visits to the client's home or office are available if requested.

Comprehensive Services

EHS physicians provide comprehensive preventive and acute medical services for adults and children, combined with expert consultation and data interpretation. State-of-the-art medical technology is used for disease prevention, health screening and risk-factor assessment. In addition, EHS facilitates access to (and closely monitors) ancillary healthcare services, including specialty consultation, physical therapy, hospital care and radiological studies. A healthcare concierge is available to coordinate and schedule client services, and a periodic newsletter will address topical and preventive healthcare issues.

High-Quality Care

EHS was founded by Mark E. Vasiliadis, M.D. and Kevin J. Kelleher, M.D., Board-certified family practitioners who have built superior reputations in the Washington Metropolitan community by providing years of exceptional family medical care to their patients. Honors include area's "Best Doctors" selection by Washingtonian and Virginia Business magazines, professional speaker status with several pharmaceutical companies, and medical directorships of three local healthcare-related organizations. Drs. Vasiliadis and Kelleher have outstanding professional relationships with highly respected local medical and surgical specialists. EHS clients are thus afforded exceptional primary and specialty care.

Fees

After a one-time enrollment fee, a $250 monthly fee entitles clients to 24-hour direct access to their physician, unlimited telephone/e-mail consultative and concierge services, any-time/any-day availability for office visits, informative and educational periodic newsletters, and quarterly health maintenance office consultations. Family members of existing clients are added at reduced fees. Additional face-to-face physician visits are provided on a fee-for-service basis. While EHS physicians are not considered 'participating providers' by managed-care organizations, most PPO and POS insurance plans provide 'out-of-network' benefits, which usually result in significant reimbursement for these services. We encourage our clients to consult their accountants, as payments to EHS may be tax deductible, may be covered by corporate medical benefits or may be reimbursable through various medical savings accounts (Section 125 Plans).

Summary

Many consider healthcare a top priority, yet waste valuable time with extended telephone holds, crowded waiting rooms, inconvenient appointments and prolonged physician delays. These conditions have largely been created by our Managed Care system and too often lead to frustrating medical encounters and disappointing doctor-patient relationships. In response, EHS has established a new standard of primary healthcare delivery in the Northern Virginia area. Immediate and convenient access to high-quality medical care and services helps our clients lead healthier and more productive lives.
